

JSHET Conference 2010 Call for Papers

The 74th Annual Conference of the Japanese Society for the History of Economic Thought (JSHET) will be held on May 22-23, 2010 at Toyama University, Toyama, Japan.

The organizing committee invites proposals for individual papers (in English or in Japanese) on all aspects of the history of economic thought.

Submissions should be mailed to eriguchi@mtj.biglobe.ne.jp. Each author should send his/her abstract of about 600 words in English or 2000 letters in Japanese for a paper, as an attached document (PDF or WORD format) to an electronic mail, containing the title of the paper, his/her name, affiliation, postal and electronic addresses and the fax number. The deadline for submission is September 30, 2009.

A complete list of accepted contributions and a provisional programme would be available at the beginning of December 2009. The outlines (within 6 pages of format A4) of the paper should be submitted by February 28, 2010. They will be printed and mailed to all participants one month before the conference.

The fee for non-members of JSHET to present a paper at the conference is 6,000 yen.

Further information of JSHET and the conference may be found on the web site: <http://society.cpm.ehime-u.ac.jp/shet/shetj.html> For any additional information, please send your request to eriguchi@mtj.biglobe.ne.jp.
